Liberal Meeting

The Liberal meeting held in the Pioney hall on Tuesday evening, was well attended. A large number of ladies were present, showing that the women voters of Coleman are evincing a keen interest in the present political campaign.

After a few words of welcome by the chairman, Dr. Oliver, the speaker of the evening, Mr. Gillis, was introduced. Mr. Gillis at once launched into the discussion of the present political issues.

The speaker first took his audience over the early history of Canada, dwelling upon the part played by the Quebec Frenchmen at that time. He ridiculed the idea that the present Unionist party had any monopoly on all the patriotism, and in this regard called to mind that at the time of the civil war in the U.S. it was these same Frenchmen who had saved Canada for Great Britain, by refusing to join with the U.S. Anyone who questioned the loyalty of these Frenchmen had but to remember that upon three different occasions they had successfully repelled an invasion, thereby paving the way to the formation of what we now know as Canada.

The speaker touched upon the forming of Confederation, and then came up to the time of the entry into the political affairs of Canada of Sir Wilfrid Laurier. He claimed that during all Sir Wilfrid's term of office Canada enjoyed extreme prosperity, but upon the advent of Sir Robert Borden into power a period of depression set in.

Taking up the reciprocity question, which was the issue at the last election and which caused the downfall of the Laurier Government, the speaker contended that two factors had entered into the defeat of the reciprocity issue. First, the support given the Borden Government by the big monied interest of Montreal and Toronto.

Second, the pact formed with the Nationalists of Quebec by Sir Robert. Coming on down to the issues at present before the people, Mr. Gillis recited the gross mismanagement and graft carried on by the Borden Government since the beginning of the war. Sir Robert Borden, before going to England, had repeatedly stated that conscription in Canada would never be necessary, but upon his return he immediately announced that the Government would bring in a conscription measure at once, this in spite of the fact that Sir Robert claimed that no pressure had been exerted on him while in England.

The claim that Sir Wilfrid was opposed to conscription was absolutely false. What he was opposed to was conscription without a referendum, claiming that the people have the right to rule, and that this was what we were now fighting Germany for, to give the people the right to control their own affairs—not a rule by a few for the many.

In closing, Mr. Gillis claimed the present Election Act was a disgrace to Canada, and asked all to support Mr. McIvor, who was pledged to support Sir Wilfrid Laurier, who today loomed up as the biggest man in the history of Canada.

Mr. Gillis was given an attentive hearing by all present, and all went away feeling that they had a clearer idea of some of the important questions, which up to the present have been so confusing.

Unionist Meeting

A large and enthusiastic gathering greeted the speakers at the second rally of the Unionists at the second Eagle hall on Wednesday evening. Mr. Omlette, after tendering birthday greetings to Sir Wilfrid Laurier, cited a large number of acceptably prominent Liberals taking active part in the Unionist movement and severely criticized the remarks of a Liberal speaker of a few nights previously in presuming to classify these men as immature and unthinking. The speaker then took up the question of reinforcements, to the forces abroad, showing how the Laurier programme could not succeed in less than a year in getting their machinery in operation and compared this with the statement of General Newburn that he would have 15,000 troops on the sea by January, 1918.

Mr. Scott, in his concise and practical manner, dealt with the subject of organization and gave some very timely advice to the workers, particularly to the beginners and the ladies, of whom there were many.

Mr. Robert Holmes made an eloquent and rousing appeal to everyone to do their duty in freedom and democracy were to continue to exist. He pointed out the fate of Belgium, Serbia, Roumania, Northern France and Poland, explaining that these things would come to Canada if the Allies did not succeed in winning the war. Mr. Holmes created a profound impression, and was rapidly listened to.

These rallies are regular weekly events, and a number of able speakers from out of town have been listed. On next Wednesday evening Mr. John Kemmis, M. P., of Pincher Creek, will be present.

Excuse Us, Please

Owing to the great number of ballots that had to be received and initialed by the editor this week in connection with the automobile contest, this issue of The Bulletin is a few hours late.

For the same reason, change of copy for the editor of the Coleman Cash Grocery and the Western Co-Operative Trading Company, Limited, is held over till next issue. Our readers should in the meantime, however, make a special point of visiting these two stores when purchasing supplies. They will find that it will pay them.

Automobile Contest

The candidates in the automobile contest are now settling down to real work. Up to the present, with one or two exceptions, they have been merely flirting with the job in hand. But the large number of ballots that have been put in the boxes this week indicates beyond all possibility of a doubt that exciting times are on the tapis for the immediate future.

On Thursday afternoon at six o'clock the white ballots were declared void, unless they had been initialed by the contest manager, and this phase of the contest seems to have brought out as many or more ballots in a few days than have been cast in all the previous weeks of the contest.

These ballots have not, of course, been counted and will not be counted until the evening of the first Wednesday in December; but at a rough guess, based on the ballots deposited this week; and as a secret between ourselves, we do not mind hazarding the opinion that when the next count takes place Mrs. Eddie MacDonald will be crowding close on the heels of Mr. Grant for first place and that Harry Wheatcroft will be running a close third. That is, of course, unless the other candidates get a great big wiggle on during the intervening period. For, with the passing out of the white ballots, scores of people—children mostly—have been bringing in ballots for these two candidates by the handful.

But it must not be imagined that the other candidates did not get a look in on these white ballots. They did. And we want to impress it as strongly as we can upon every candidate at this time that this is a most important period in the contest and every VOTE counts. Friends of candidates should now also remember that it is votes alone that will help a candidate—not promises.

The next count will be a tremendous surprise to everybody.

In Aid of Red Cross

"Mutiny" is the name of the Bluebird photoplay that will be shown at the Rex theatre next Thursday, and it is without doubt the best of the kind that has been shown in Coleman for some time. It is a photoplay dealing with the men, and women, who go down to the sea in ships. It scenes so vividly depicted as to make the observer believe himself a character in the drama unfolded before his eyes, it tells the story of the misadventure of events which engulfed Captain Aaron Whitaker, of the good ship "Alden Besse," his daughter Esther, the man she wed against her brutal father's wishes and the man who was defeated by his rival for Esther's hand.

According to the story of the play Aaron Whitaker is a wealthy man, owner of the sailing ship, Alden Besse. He had promised Jacob Babcock, his first mate, that his daughter, Esther, shall become Babcock's wife. But Esther is in love with Caleb Tilden, her childhood sweetheart, and her grandfather, in sympathy-interest, advises her to marry Caleb and run the chance of gaining her father's forgiveness.

The Alden Besse is at sea, when Esther's marriage to Tilden takes place. At about the same time Grandfather Whitaker dies. Jacob Babcock has remained ashore for the purpose of marrying Esther, and when the Alden Besse returns and her skipper finds that his daughter has not married Babcock, his anger is intense. Accidentally he discovers, in Esther's sewing basket, a baby's stocking, and divines the truth.

He compels Esther to board the Alden Besse, locking her in a cabin. Then he seeks out Caleb Tilden and, in a fight, believes he has killed him. Tilden, however, has simply been stunned and when Whitaker throws him from the wharf his sudden immersion in the cold water revives him and he manages to crawl to a string-piece under the dock.

At that moment the Alden Besse is sailing, and Tilden watches her with frenzied interest. He sees Esther as she runs to the stern and attempts to jump overboard. Esther's father drags the girl back into her cabin and there she is securely imprisoned. The cook of the craft, Eben Wiggs, is the only man on board who has any sympathy for the girl. The cook cares for her, even when her child is subsequently born.

Babcock is sailing in the Alden Besse, and when Whitaker tries to compel his daughter to marry the mate, Esther declares that she will throw herself into the sea before allowing her father to conclude the marriage ceremony. Whitaker in disgust, abandons his purpose. Later the seamen join in a mutiny and kill Whitaker, their leader being Jacob Babcock.

In the meantime, Tilden has tried to come upon the Alden Besse by shipping as a sailor; a craft that sailed the same sea the Besse usually did, and has found her lying in Panama Bay. When he attempts to board the Besse, Captain Whitaker thinks he sees the ghost of a man he believes he has killed, and drives Tilden from the ship.

Tilden returns home and waits for the return of the Alden Besse. The mutiny has broken out as the ship is approaching her home port. There is a fierce storm approaching at the same time, and when it breaks the Besse is wrecked. Tilden heads the villagers who go to the rescue, and is the one who wades into the water and secures a raft upon which Esther and her baby have been lashed by the cook. The reunion follows and the final cruise of the Alden Besse becomes tradition.

This is the story of the Bluebird photoplay announced as the attraction at the Rex theatre on Thursday. The net proceeds will be donated to the Coleman Red Cross Society.

Banks Will Help

The chartered banks of Canada have united in a plan to assist small investors in their subscriptions to Canada's Victory Loan. Action was taken through the Canadian Bankers' Association, after a conference between the heads of the various financial institutions. E. L. Peas, of Montreal, president of the association, has written to Sir Thomas White, minister of finance, the following letter:

"In order to encourage small investors to participate in Canada's forthcoming Victory Loan I am authorized to state that the chartered banks will lend in moderate amounts upon the pledge of the securities themselves to subscribers to the loan who have a reasonable certainty of repaying the advance in one year.

"The banks will advance up to 90 per cent. of the amount subscribed, and the rate of interest will be 5 1/2 per cent. per annum, with monthly or quarterly reduction payments, as may be arranged.

"The banks will also accept from subscribers for safe-keeping without charge the interim securities and later the bonds themselves to a reasonable amount for the term of one year."

Labor Notes

With the plan of precluding the possibility of labor agitators becoming a dangerous force to organized labor, and from starting agitations such as those fostered by the I. W. W., the building trades department of the American Federation of Labor, in convention at Buffalo has adopted a resolution barring from the ranks of bona fide labor workmen of foreign birth or parentage who are not American or Canadian citizens or who have failed to declare their intention of becoming such.

An important section of British labor has given a decision in favor of continuing the war until victory is attained. The South Wales mining area, sometimes called the storm centre of British industry, has been balloting for several days past on the question whether to strike if the government proceeds with a scheme for "combing out" more men of military age for service in the army. By a majority of 3 to 1 the miners have decided against the strike.

The following striking extract from a story which is at this time appearing in the Neve Zuercher Zeitung, a German-Swiss Liberal newspaper that has a large circulation in Germany, is published by the Labor Leader. One of the characters in the story is a socialist who has lost his only son, a young man of brilliant promise, in the war. He is addressing a tumultuous crowd: "He stopped for a pause, threw high his arms, his eyes grew large and said: 'Ten million corpses, ten million men have ended. The flowing blood of these murdered ten million men, ten million gallons steaming human blood, could substitute for a whole day the gigantic water masses of the Niagara.'

"All the rolling stock of the Prussian railways would not suffice to support the heads only all at once of these ten million murdered men.

"Civilization: Make a chain of these ten million murdered murderers, placing them head to head and foot to foot, and you will have an uninterrupted line measuring 10,000 miles, a grave 10,000 miles long, encompassing all Germany, winding itself through fields and woods, passing many a village and town, corpses here and there, corpses everywhere, along valleys too, and rivers and seashore, 10,000 miles—not yards—a gigantic grave all around Germany. Head to head, foot to foot, 10,000 miles of corpses! Civilization!"

It is said that there will be more men go into the lumber camps this year than ever before particularly in some eastern sections. Wages this year are running as high as $75 per month and this together with the great increase in the price of camp supplies will make lumbering a very expensive undertaking.

The labor men of Saskatchewan, at a convention held in Regina recently, decided to organize an Independent Labor party for political action and elected James Somerville, the well known labor leader of the city, as president. Twenty-one locals, representing a membership of over 8,000, were represented. It was resolved to call upon all workers in the province to affiliate with and support the labor party.

The executive officers of the Alberta Federation of Labor have issued a call for the fourth convention of the Alberta Federation of Labor, to be held in the city of Lethbridge on Monday morning, January 7th, 1918, and days following. The sessions will be held in the Labor Temple. Many questions affecting labor will have the attention of the convention among which are: Workmen's Compensation, Early Closing and Minimum Wage, Model License Law, amendments to the Masters' and Servants' Act, amendments to the Mechanics' Lien Act.

At Camp Borden

The following article is from the Alliston (Ont.) Herald, a town ten miles south of camp Borden:

Aviation seems to be becoming more difficult as the fall season advances and aerial navigators are having more accidents apparently than they had in the summer days when the upper strata of air were not so turbulent as they evidently are on some windy days at this season. Nearly every day a salvage truck and a crew of mechanics is out somewhere to disassemble and transport to the shops a plane that has been injured in a fall. Last week several planes in more or less damaged condition were taken through Alliston on their way to camp. Whatever may have been the reasons for the mishaps which overtook most of these machines and their pilots, quite a number of people of this town witnessed the descent from a high altitude of a plane which came to the ground on James Smellie's farm on Wednesday evening. The plane was seen to suddenly dive. The airman was able to reduce the angle, but that he was in trouble there could be no doubt. His aerobatics were daring and quite spectacular. Several times he looped the loop, he shot spirally through the air always at an angle which seemed too acute and finally would commence a straight descent nose downward. But he managed to manipulate the plane so that when he was near the ground he got the wings into the air and broke the speed enough to greatly relieve the impact in landing. The machine struck the earth with considerable violence, but the young aviator was able to crawl out as soon as spectators of his descent reached him. He had sustained nothing worse than a few bruises and one leg was hurt making him limp painfully. His hands were a mass of blisters raised in a few minutes while manipulating the plain in its fall. He was able to take a look over the machine and discovered that exhaustion of gasoline was the cause of his trouble. The aviator was taken in by new found friends and though at first he was in an agitated nervous condition, he soon calmed down and became normal. He was flying at four thousand feet when the trouble overtook him, he said.

SAM MOORE - PROPRIETOR

Alberta's New Premier

Alberta like every other province has become so accustomed to looking for its Premiers in the ranks of law that it will not now find it easy to remember that the occupant of the big red room in the magnificent stone structure called "The House" is a farmer. Three Premiers have ruled in Alberta and two of the three have been "called." At the time of the notorious A. and G. W. scandal, the Hon. A. L. Sifton stepped from the bench at the Lieutenant-Governor's summons, but on the transfer of "The Sphinx" to the Federal arena as Minister of Customs in the Union Government, it was in the fields that the third Premier was found. True the Hon. Charles Stewart was Minister of Public Works in the Sifton Cabinet, but his business is that of a farmer, and should defeat at the polls ever necessitate his retirement from public life, it will be back to his "broad acres" at Sedgewick that "Charlie" Stewart will go.

For some reason or other the Canadian public, even in the West where it ought to know better, has conjured up, when reference is made to the man who lives by the land—a picture of a seedy-looking individual who holds his three-for-a-nickle stogie at an awkward angle in his face, and to whom sky-scrapers and picture shows are among the even wonders of the world; but Charlie Stewart, farmer, is a glaring refutation of this impression. A fine figure of a man he is, six feet in his stockings, if a foot, and built in proportion. A typical Westerner, too, he is jovial and care-free, radiating good humor and personality. No member of the House is quicker to see or appreciate a joke, no matter whom it is on. The continuous hickering between Government and Opposition he views with good-humored tolerance and it is only on rare occasions, not withstanding the fact that the Government has no sturdier, no more effective fighter, that he rises to wrathful heights in his exchanges with the Opposition. One of these rare occasions cropped up in the session of 1910 when his name was mentioned in connection with charges of wrongdoing that were laid against several members of the Government. The other Ministers treated the request for a Royal Commission as more or less of a joke, but not so the Hon. Charles. His fighting blood surged immediately to the crown of his shining pate, and never before nor since has the Alberta House heard such an explosion. In quick order the Minister of Public Works made it plain that if there was wrongdoing, he, at least, was ignorant of it. And it was plain to be seen that the Opposition believed him.

Regardless of party affiliations, the selection of the Hon. Charles Stewart as Alberta's third Premier will assuredly meet with general approval. Mr. Stewart is one of the best liked men in the Legislature, and he enjoys to an unusual degree the esteem and confidence of his associates on both sides of the House. "Charlie" Stewart he is to friend and foe alike, and it is a certainty that there is no member, unless it be the Hon. A. G. MacKay, who has such a wide circle of friends. He is typical, too, of a rapidly increasing class of political men in western Canada, in that he is young, vigorous, progressive, and fraternal; he has a first-hand knowledge of the mass of the people of his Province and their conditions of living and working; he is friendly and easy of approach, utterly devoid of "frills" and false notions of prestige. His sincerity of purpose is as obvious as his integrity of character, both of which traits, combined with a conspicuous lack of political guile, make him a conspicuous refutation of the frequently accepted theory that politics is a deep game played trickily.

Twelve years ago Mr. Stewart was a newcomer to Alberta, comparatively unknown and without political experience. He was born in Strabane, Ontario, in 1893, and it was in the schools of this Province that he received his education. He was little more than 30 years of age when he heeded the call of Horace Greely and "went West" to begin life as a farmer in Alberta. An Ontario boy himself, it remained for an Ontario boy to "discover" the man who was to be the third Premier of the far off Prairie Province. It was at a Liberal meeting in Wetaskiwin in 1900 that the Hon. Duncan Marshall encountered Charlie Stewart and sowed the seeds which resulted in the entry to the Legislature of a new representative for Sedgewick three years later. At that time he was elected by acclamation, and in 1913 the same honor was paid him. He entered politics at a critical time in the history of the Province, the A. and G. W. situation being one of the first problems to confront him, and he was one of the leading insurgents who vigorously assisted in the cleaning out which took place shortly after. When the Hon. A. L. Sifton organized a new Cabinet, Mr. Stewart was one of the choice of officials, and his business-like executive methods soon marked him out as a Minister of extraordinary ability, and it is generally admitted that he has handled admirably a department, the effectiveness of which has been necessarily handicapped by war conditions.

Taking him all in all, Mr. Stewart is a quick and powerful speaker; an excellent executive official, well informed on current affairs, sympathetic to all classes of workers, and an ardent advocate of the reform movement initiated by the farmers of western Canada.

Strange Infatuation

We in America know that the Hohenzollerns are the oppressors of the German people. England knows it. France knows it. But in the mind of the average German, taught by the ingenious system of a Prussian king that saw the sole salvation of his subjects in the socialization of the people for the benefit of the state, the only oppressors of the Germans are England and France and Russia and America. Even here, after being grounded for a generation by the blessings of democracy, there are creatures who worship, with various degrees of secrecy, the idols of Prussian autocracy.—New York Sun.

Worms, however generated, are found in the digestive tracts, where they set up disturbance and are a threat to the health of the child. There can be no comfort for the little ones when the harmful organisms have been expelled. No better preparation for this purpose can be had than Miller's Worm Powders. They will immediately destroy the worms and correct the conditions that were favorable to their existence.

Find Gasoline in Shale

From the so-called hydrocarbon shales of Colorado and Utah may come gasoline for motor cars. Examination of these shales by the United States geological survey indicates that the distillation of shale from beds over three feet thick in Colorado alone will yield more than 20,000,000,000 barrels of crude oil from which more than 2,000,000,000 barrels of gasoline can be extracted by ordinary methods. However, there probably will be no shale gasoline manufactured until the present methods of obtaining gasoline make the product so expensive that the majority of motorists are unable to buy it.

Comment on Figures Showing Composition of Fighting Forces

Much attention is being bestowed by the press on the figures published by Reuters showing the proportion of the British troops engaged in the fighting since July 31, namely, English, 70 per cent; overcast troops, 16 per cent; Scottish, 8 per cent; Irish, 6 per cent. The proportion of casualties being sustained is, however, overcast troops, 8 per cent; Scottish, 10 per cent; Irish, 6 per cent.

The Sunday Observer, commenting on these figures, says: "The generous prominence given in the communiques to the exploits of the soldiers of the dominions, as well as the Scottish, Welsh and Irish is England's response to the keener spirit of nations which is part of the historic birthright of her neighbors in the United Kingdom, and to the best of youth in the dominions. Englishmen do not grudge or misrepresent the frequency with which these troops are mentioned when this mention is made the foundation of a particularly foul enemy slander it is necessary to state the facts. It is perhaps of even greater importance than quantity, is quality of product. The 50 per cent yield will usually be of inferior quality, so that the loss involved in raising the small or poor crop, is two-fold. The gain in producing the standard 100 per cent yield is also two-fold—a gain not only in amount or quantity but also in quality and hence in enhanced market value bushel for bushel. It is in the large yields that profits are made; the smaller yields many and of inferior quality, incur actual losses. There are facts and factors making for success or failure which are apt to be ignored and overlooked, which are of vast and vital import to the individual, the community and the nation, signally so in this time of shortage and of abnormal expenditures. The conditions that count for success and ultimate independence for the farmer are: Thoroughness and a fair degree of skill in his work and intelligent economic management of his affairs.—W. J. Way.

Increase Our Average Yields

Facts and Factors Making for Success or Failure

The average yields of Canada's grain crops can be doubled in quantity by the application of more care in seed selection, and just a little more labor and skill in tillage. And what is perhaps of even greater importance than quantity, is quality of product. YES! MAGICALLY! CORN LIFT OUT WITH FINGERS!

You say to the drug store man, "Give me a small bottle of freeze." This will cost very little but will positively remove every hard or soft corn or callus from one's feet. A few drops of this new ether compound applied directly upon a tender, inflamed corn or callus, and, instantly, and soon the entire corn or callus, root and all, dries up and can be lifted off with the fingers.

This new corn lifting compound was introduced by a Cincinnati man, who says that freeze-dries in corns and simply melts them out of the corn or callus without irritating the surrounding skin.

Don't let father die of infection or let your child suffer from his corns, but clip this out and make him try it. If you, druggist, hand any freeze to him to order a small bottle from his wholesale drug house for you.

Blackleg in Cattle

Prevention is Possible Through Use of Vaccination

The Manitoba department of agriculture has had complaints from a few parts of the country of loss among cattle from blackleg, and this is just the time of year to be on the lookout for it. The blackleg germ, when once introduced into a district, lives in the soil and is liable to attack animals, especially young cattle, at pasture.

The symptoms are quite characteristic, the first usually being sudden lameness, in which one of the legs is dragged stiffly. Local swelling develops rapidly, and these produce a dragging swollen when pressed. The disease is almost always rapidly fatal. The department reminds the public that although curative treatment after infection is not practicable, prevention is possible through vaccination. This year a large amount of blackleg vaccine was used in all the western provinces because of the publication last winter of a circular on this subject. Farmers with cattle at pasture should get a copy of this circular from the Publications Branch, Department of Agriculture, Winnipeg, or should send direct for the vaccine and circular to Dr. C. D. McGivray, Dominion Government Veterinary Inspector for Manitoba, Boyd Block, Winnipeg. In a single day lately Dr. McGivray has received orders for more than two thousand doses of blackleg vaccine.—George Ratho.

Gramophones in the War

Three hundred gramophones are divided among the Canadian troops in France alone. Gramophones will also accompany the United States soldiers, and as a start a New York man has bought seventy-five of them to be sent across to France, such as his personal contribution, through the Y. M. C. A.

Mr. Brady, a general manager in Canada of a gramophone company, says that the war has not hit the gramophone industry to any serious extent, and in Canada business has advanced wonderfully. As an instance, last June's sales were 127 per cent better than those of June, 1916, a record month, when business was 700 per cent better than it was five years ago.

Public Will Chances It

Eliminating the Opportunity of Making Excessive Profits

What causes popular resentment is not a high price, but the belief that it has to be paid merely to satisfy the greed of some individual and to put money into his pocket. The great merit of the costing system adopted by the Ministry of Food is that it eliminates the opportunity of making excessive profits out of the public need by reducing the stages through which a commodity passes to those indispensably necessary, and by reducing the margin of profit. It is the method of the future. We hope the public will understand the point and appreciate the method adopted to eliminate "profiteering." There is indeed, a danger that this may be too effectively done and that the mark of the profiteer will be a danger which always attends fixed prices, and it must not be ignored. If prices are fixed so low that they do not give a fair return, the inevitable result is that commodities are not forthcoming.—London Times.

A Plan to Keep Cabbage

Cabbage will keep in good condition until late in the winter if wrapped in paper and placed on shelves or hung from the top of a cellar. If the main part of the root is buried in a pit a great deal of labor can be saved by taking out quite a quantity whenever the pit is opened and keeping it by the above method until it is used, when a small supply can be taken from the pit.

MOTHERHOOD IS A WOMAN'S JOY

Suggestions to Childless Women.

Among the virtues of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is the ability to correct sterility in the cases of many women. This fact is well established as evidenced by the following letter and hundreds of others we have published in these columns.

"I want other women to know of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has been to me. We had always wanted a baby in our home. I was in poor health and not able to do my work. My mother and husband had urged me to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I was so, my health improved and I am now the mother of a fine baby girl and am doing my work."—Mrs. ALICE B. TIMMONS, 216 Almond St., Poplar Bluff, Mo.

In many other cases of childless women, there are now children because of the fact that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has made women normal, healthy and strong.

Anyone Can Do This

Overheated Houses Mean a Waste of Fuel and Is Injurious to Health

The fuel administrator suggests that as a measure of economy in the use of coal, Americans reduce the temperature of their houses at least five degrees this winter. The American standard of artificial heating is commonly said to be about 70 degrees Fahrenheit, and this is true in Canada. The English standard is 62 degrees. The complaints of Englishmen in America of overheated houses and the jests of Americans in England at the chills indoors are well worn stories. Climatic differences make identical heating standards unlikely and even undesirable. Yet American houses are frequently kept too hot, and not with a temperature of 70 degrees, but 72 and 75 degrees. When Mr. Garfield urges a general reduction of five degrees in the temperature of the average home he asks us to bear no hardship, or even discomfort. Most medical authorities would enthusiastically endorse his suggestion on grounds of health alone.—New York Sun.

A Different Type

Politics Must Be Less of an Exclusive Profession

The truth is that there never was a time when sane, serious counsel was more needed than in the present hour, when the anxious suspense of the war and the grinding misery of the sorrow which follows in its train, together with the vast number of problems which are in the melting pot, require the aid of an active and enlightened public opinion to help, in due course, towards their solution. Notwithstanding the need for concentrating on the war," says the Times, "it is not too soon to make up our minds that the men to speak in the parliament shall consist in the main of a different type from those who predominate today. The public shall be less of an exclusive profession, and that there shall be no room for the candidate who thinks more of his own career in London than of the interests of his constituents." This is just what we have been saying for a long time.—Dundee People's Journal.

GUARD THE CHILDREN FROM AUTUMN COLDS

Chains of Education

War is a great educator. One of the lessons which it has forcibly driven home is the need for the application of science to industry if a nation is to hold its own in the modern world. A transformation has come over the attitude of all classes in the community, and not least the men of science, towards the claims of education.

Raise Sheep in B. C.

Canada Near Foot of the List in Sheep Raising

Sir George Bury, of the C.P.R., who was sent to Russia recently to organize her railways, writes to the secretary of the British Columbia Wool Growers' Association as follows:

"For many years I have been advocating the sheep industry and have made quite a number of public and semi-public utterances on the subject. The sheep population of the world numbers well over 600,000,000 and out of twenty-five countries Canada is near the foot, being twenty-second with 2,173,302. Australia coming first with 85,057,402. The decrease in Canada being from 1914 to 1916 the most recent figures obtainable, amounted to 334,937, whereas there was in Australia an increase of 10,516,486 and an increase in South Africa of 19,388,340. Between 1900 and 1910, the number of sheep in the United States decreased 8,836,266, being given as 52,838,748 in the latter year. "The number of sheep per 1,000 inhabitants in Australia in 1914 was 10,970; Ireland, 823; Great Britain, 578; United States, 575 and Canada, 302."

"The number of sheep per 1,000 acres of productive land in 1914 in Australia was 709; Great Britain, 809; Ireland, 192; United States, 60, and Canada, 20."

"These figures show to what extent the number of sheep in Canada might reasonably be increased, instead we seem to be killing off the lambs and sheep very rapidly."

The Vanishing Elk

Dramatic Measures Must Be Taken to Save Them From Extinction

Next in importance to big-horn sheep, though least in numbers, among the Rocky Mountain big game, is the American elk or wapiti. It once ranged nearly the entire continent in numbers, but has been reduced so greatly that it has become possible to take a reasonably accurate census of its numbers. Its habitat was originally from Mexico to the Peace river and from the Pacific to the Atlantic, between the St. Lawrence and the coast of South Carolina. Today, a few scattered bands along the Rockies between Colorado and the Brazos river, and some isolated herds in the forests of northern Manitoba and Saskatchewan, comprise the entire wild elk left in North America. Probably the total does not exceed 60,000 head, less than 5,000 of which are found in Canada. In the Rockies there are probably from 175 to 305, of which the insignificant remnant in the valley of the Brazos river is the last of the original elk herds of Alberta. Those now found in the south are British Columbia elk that have migrated to the East slope since the inauguration of a closed season on elk in Alberta some five or six years ago.

Elk are grazing animals, but have been forced to become forest dwellers. They live principally on grass, weeds and low brush, such as small poplar, birch and willows. This dependence upon grass and weed range and the inability to subsist on browse alone, has introduced some important elements into the problem of their permanent protection which are not prominent in the case of the other big game of the Rockies.

They are the largest round-horned deer in the world, and, except in Yellowstone park, and possibly in Alberta and British Columbia, where closed seasons have been established, they are rapidly disappearing in the wake of the buffalo and antelope. Only very drastic measures taken at once will save them from total extermination in Canada. Adapted from an Address by W. N. Miller, published in "Conservation of Fish, Birds and Game."

Coal Rations by Ticket

Since September 5 the Berlin householders have one more card to add to the many varieties that already perplex him. Coal tickets now regulate the coal rations. The issue and use of these tickets have pedagogic as well as social-economic advantages in addition to their immediate aims. They are teaching the people arithmetic, method, and thrift for the hard times after the war.

All coal found in any man's cellar beyond his legitimate ration is to be confiscated.

Evensong will be held in St. Alban's church next Sunday at 7 p.m. as usual. The Rev. A. W. MacMichael, Rector of Pincher Creek, will officiate and preach. The Rev. H. Clay has arranged to exchange duties with the Rev. MacMichael on Sunday next and will be in Pincher Creek for the day.

A German farmer in the north end of Bruce county, who last winter refused to allow horses to stand in his stable while the owners were in attendance, at a Red Cross box social, is now being repaid for his miserly deed by having his entire crop of grain standing in the barn unfreshed, as he can get neither machine nor men to assist him.

What is described in the advance notices as "the most refined and artistic Scotch family that travels Canada" will visit Coleman on the evening of Jan. 7th next, and will give a concert in the opera house under the auspices of the Red Cross Society. The program will include Scotch, English and Irish songs, dancing, duets, and songs in character. Keep the date in mind.

Pincher Creek Echo:—At 6.30 Saturday evening, the tolling of the Cathedral bells announced the joyful tidings that Sylvester Purvis, of Coalhurst, and Sarah Coughran, widow of the late Jonathan Graham, of Coleman, were united in holy matrimony by the Rev. Father Flon at his residence, Pincher Creek. Amongst the witnesses to the ceremony was the bride's father, John Loughran, late of Beaver Mines, while her sister Mrs. Aaron Cox, Dry Fork, and Harry Drew, brother-in-law, Pincher Creek, acted as sponsors. After the ceremony the party retired to the home of Harry and Mrs. Drew where a number of guests had assembled to wish the happy couple success, while the mirth and fun went fast and furious until the "two sma" hours. The bride and bridegroom left in W. R. Dobbie's car to catch the train for the coast. After the honeymoon, Mr. and Mrs. Purvis will occupy their new home at Coalhurst near Lethbridge, where "Sill" has been employed by the North American Colliers Co., and its predecessor, its storekeeper and other positions of trust for the past seven years.

Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Farrell gave a "birthday party" to B. P. McEwen on Monday evening of this week. Quite a number of "Bert's" intimate friends were present and a most enjoyable evening was spent. Bert is old enough to vote now.

Rev. Father Bujalski spent a few days this week in Calgary, and while there wrote up Vic-tory Bonds among the Polish people to the extent of about three thousand dollars. Father Bujalski has also been doing good work in the Peace district. The Polish people tendered him a banquet at Frank recently and during the evening bonds to the extent of $1,200 were sold by him.
